What is iTrust?

IAPS Charitable Trust

iTrust is the charitable arm of IAPS with the aim of supporting the education of children and their teachers. Its work is supported by the income from funds provided by the IAPS charities and by donations from IAPS and our member schools.

There are four elements:

- Schools Access Scheme (SAS)
- General Awards
- Benevolent awards
- Music awards

Schools Access Scheme

The Schools Access Scheme was first launched in 2015 and is designed to allow pupils from families that would not normally have the resources to pay for an education in an IAPS school to have the opportunity to benefit from the start in life such an education provides.

Usual entry points are at Reception or Year 3.

Applications must first be made through an IAPS member school. The school pays 50% of the fees and iTrust pays the other 50%.

Awards

iTrust makes a small number of awards, usually up to a maximum amount of £2,500 per year per pupil. Most awards are for up to one year only to provide temporary support in a time of need or to allow a child to reach a natural break point in their education. Priority is given to pupils who have already started their education in IAPS schools and whose families' financial circumstances have changed. The support of the school is essential.

"This is the best news ever! Thank you so much! You have made life so easy for me and a little girl will be very happy... this will make a huge difference to my life."

Benevolent awards

iTrust makes awards to relieve the hardship of IAPS members or former members of the teaching profession and their families. These awards may also be used to promote the education of pupils of members or deceased members of the teaching profession by providing financial support for them to continue their education in independent senior schools where their families' financial circumstances would otherwise prevent them from doing so.

Music Awards

The Harrison Memorial Fund awards grants to pupils in Years 3-8 to assist them in attending choral or instrumental courses held in the UK. These typically include residential courses run by National Schools Symphony Orchestra, National Prep Schools Orchestra and Eton Junior Choral Courses, although other courses are considered upon application.
