N69 Ex Cineribus: Classics post-Covid and the new common entrance

Date Wednesday 10 November 2021
Venue Online via Zoom
Cost £125 (non IAPS members – additional £50)

This course gathers an array of speakers to advise on the new CE Classics specifications, discuss catching up on lost learning post-Covid and promote excellence in the provision of Latin, Greek and Classical Civilisation teaching. Ed Clarke will discuss in detail the new English to Latin sentences at CE and how to work composition into everyday teaching. Nicholas Richards will cover the updated Greek CE and join Bob Bass in outlining the brand new Classical Civilisation paper, with respect to its content, format and benefits to prospective students. Stephen Anderson will also be on hand to broaden the scope of discussion into senior school teaching and higher education. Closing the day will be an interactive Q&A session, with breakout rooms to allow plenty of opportunity for speakers and delegates alike to share resources and ideas.

Audience	Heads of department, directors of studies, heads of scholars, senior school Classics teachers interested in the prep school process
Objectives	Offer key guidance on best practise in Classics teaching; promote discussion of ideas and innovations; provide useful information on the workings of the exam board and senior school departments, and to broaden cultural horizons within the sphere of Classical research.
Course Director	Ed Clarke, IAPS Classics subject adviser
Presenter(s)	Stephen Anderson - Rodewald Lector in Classical Languages, Bob Bass - Head of Classics at Orwell Park School, Nicholas Richards - Head of Classics at Christ Church Cathedral School, Ed Clarke - Head of Classics at Westminster Cathedral Choir School.
