P13: RS: developing a creative and inspiring RE curriculum at KS1/2

Date Wednesday 2 February 2022
Venue Online
Cost £125 (non IAPS members – additional £50)

This session will explore a range of practical classroom strategies that exemplify a rich KS1-2 curriculum. Using case studies from Christians, Muslims, Hindus and non-religious worldviews, delegates will have an opportunity to see how to enrich and extend their current curriculum. We will address some of the significant issues in RE, including ways of helping pupils to learn lots and remember more, how to use different disciplines and methods to examine ideas, what worldviews mean in RE and how to teach about worldviews.

Stephen Pett, National Association of Teachers of RE Trainer, will share lots of resources to help delegates consider their own practice by using new ideas to try out for themselves. The session will be interactive, including an opportunity for delegates to talk in small groups about their curriculum and how the session's ideas might support its development.

Audience Teachers of RE at KS1 and 2 and heads of department

Objectives Delegates will reflect on principles for curriculum design, exemplified through practical classroom activities. They will consider how to implement some new approaches to the RE curriculum, as well as to teaching and learning experiences within lessons. Delegates will consider adopting at least one new way forward in their own teaching and departments that could enable a more creative and inspirational approach

We will do all we can to ensure our courses go ahead as planned. Occasionally, for reasons outside our control and particularly in the uncertain times we find ourselves in, courses may be cancelled, or courses that were due to take place in person may have to take place online. While a refund of the course fee will be given where courses are cancelled by us, we will not be able to take responsibility for any expenses incurred by you in advance, such as travel or accommodation costs which are no longer required due to the cancellation of a course or it being changed to a remote format. We do hope you will understand.
