R26: AI tools vs residential trips as a way to immerse your students in native speech and conversations

Date Wednesday 15 May 2024
Venue Mary Ward House, London, WC1H 9SN
Cost IAPS members - £229 (non-IAPS members - £329)

The course will include a mix of presentations and group activities that will cover some of the best practices needed to organise valuable and memorable residential visits abroad. Attendees will share tips about the best trip providers, and explore the keys to successful language trips; where students get a glimpse of foreign culture, whilst having fun. We are also delighted to welcome an expert on Artificial Intelligence who will explain how language learning chatbots can replicate native speech and conversations for students who may not have the opportunity to attend such trips.

Audience Language teachers and anyone working in the field of foreign languages
