P28: Pre-prep and early years: outdoor learning in the pre-prep and EYFS years following a global pandemic

Date Tuesday 17 May 2022

Venue Bilton Grange Preparatory School, Dunchurch, Rugby, CV22 6QU

Cost £229 (non IAPS members – additional £100)

This course will be led by Professor Helen Bilton. She has a national and international reputation in the field of outdoor education and will discuss the importance of outdoor learning for all children, particularly following a global pandemic. Helen will furnish delegates with new, robust ideas which promote young children's academic, social and emotional development. Much of the day will be spent outdoors so delegates should be prepared to negotiate any inclement weather. Waterproofs and wellingtons are a must!

Audience Heads of Pre-prep and EYFS, nursery managers, teachers, teaching assistants and nursery nurses from settings with those aged 2 and above

Objectives To understand the ever-greater emphasis on outdoor learning following a global pandemic, how to develop an inclusive outdoor environment. To dispel any myth that outdoor learning is for boys rather than girls. To learn how to set up and manage an effective outdoor environment.

You will partake of activities outside which can then be used back at your own schools, and you will go away clear about the setting up of an effective learning environment, with plenty of ideas and resources to support the development of your own outdoor environments. You will also go away clear about how outdoor learning supports indoor learning.

There will be pre course work to complete, but it will not be too onerous.

We will do all we can to ensure our courses go ahead as planned. Occasionally, for reasons outside our control and particularly in the uncertain times we find ourselves in, courses may be cancelled, or courses that were due to take place in person may have to take place online. While a refund of the course fee will be given where courses are cancelled by us, we will not be able to take responsibility for any expenses incurred by you in advance, such as travel or accommodation costs which are no longer required due to the cancellation of a course or it being changed to a remote format. We do hope you will understand.
