

910: Developing Outstanding Learning and Progress through Highly Effective Teaching

Date: Thursday 7 February 2019

Venue: Maple House, 150 Corporation Street, Birmingham B4 6TB

Cost: Online £229 (non IAPS members – additional £100)

This practical and active course will enable participants to explore highly effective learning and teaching strategies by focusing on four key areas: how do we know what works; outstanding teaching; outstanding learning; marking and feedback, and maintaining pace, rigour and progress. The course will enable participants to reflect on their understanding of outstanding learning and teaching pedagogy, develop their knowledge, skills and understanding of effective teaching techniques; explore models of good practice; and apply their learning to their own professional context. Participants will leave with a resource pack of materials to use right away in the classroom

Audience: Senior, Middle Managers, Class Teachers

Objectives: By the end of the course, participants will:

- Better understand the key elements of outstanding learning and teaching
- Be able to bench mark their own practice against national standards
- Develop a toolkit of skills and techniques to plan for outstanding teaching
- Explore effective strategies to recognize and develop outstanding learning and progress
- Reflect on the pace and rigor of learning and ensure effective stretch and challenge

Course Director: Stephen Burnage, Simply INSET

Speaker: Stephen Burnage
