

N24 Pre prep and early years: understanding the environment to support transitions across the early years and into key stage 1

Date: Tuesday 4 May 2021

Venue: Online – via Zoom

Cost: £125 (non IAPS members - £175)

This interactive day will be delivered by Dr Sue Allingham, Early Years Out of the Box Consultancy, and will involve discussions and activities to underpin reflecting on understanding what is meant by 'transition'. The word is used daily in practice, and now commonly means the movement of children between year groups and key stages. We will look at the physical and emotional environment, how these develop to support needs and progression, and how we can support all involved to feel comfortable. All thinking and research shared will work with, and give more depth to, any future developments in Department for Education policy, or changes in inspection frameworks.

Audience: EYFS and Pre-Prep

Objectives:

- To understand the significance of the environment as the 'third teacher'(Malaguzzi)
- To unpick the elements of the emotional environment
- To relate the emotional environment to the physical environment
- To understand the impact of transitions for all involved, and how an appropriate environment can be supportive

Course Director: Mrs Helen Fawcett, Head of EYFS at Sherborne Qatar Prep School

Speaker: Sue Allingham EdD MA BA(Hons), Early Years Out of the Box Consultancy, Consultant, Author, Trainer, Consultant Editor for Early Years Educator EYE
